By ceasing from henceforth to neglect our own interests as we have done in the past, and by resolutely entering upon reforms in Flax raising, we thereby prepare the way for the development of the national linen industry which now is and will remain in its infancy so long as the necessary raw material must be imported from Europe, chiefly from Russia and Ireland, while we are destroying, or allowing to go to waste, valuable raw material every year by hundreds of thousands of tons. The Flax fiber produced in the western states, has thus been annually destroyed in untold quantities, and has also been through careless and improper cultivation, rendered unfit for use by manufactories. By bestowing a little more care on our Flax crop, we might have annually added to the wealth...
